

Green SYMPOSIUM onLine

THE GREEN PURPOSE MOVEMENT

A Special 3 Hour Interactive Session on May 2019

Register before: 6th May 2019 (limited free spaces)
gsoregister@gmail.com

The GREEN PURPOSE MOVEMENT SYMPOSIUM present challenges of promoting sustainable development at the perspective of addressing varied socio-economic challenges, and tackling the opportunities of entrepreneurship sectors and new activities from urban planning to industry; up to involving institutions for educational sciences. This symposium is admission free and operated with a M-ICS gplatform. This event involves collaborative participation from academia, research industry, public institutions, private entities, and with public citizens. Participants gain access to an interactive space which supports the ideas of different experts and sustainability analysts at different EU regions. Each thematic issues discussed and cases presented aims at contributing to sustainability for prosperity and sufficiency growth at European level. GSO is a multidisciplinary event, sharing predominant cases intersecting at the theme of bio-economics, policies while looking at the reality of educational sciences, industry development, and citizen commitment. Exposition of opportunities by scholars, youths, and expert decision makers contribute to alternative business models, and promotion of new efficient mechanisms effective for developing sustainable interventions for improving the social quality of life while maintaining the quality of planet's biodiversity.

- New energy economics paradox and planning for green growth.
- Entrepreneurship design and environmental rights towards a more sustainable future.
- Resource conservation for society, biodiversity, and our planet.
- Educational sciences for building prosperous communities and to attain sustainable development goals effectively.

Featuring Moderator: Ariel T, Sustainability Impact PT Ambassador 2018/19

Knowledge Partners and Host:

